

Where to Eat on Christmas Eve and Day in Chicago

Give the gift of a professionally cooked feast.

The holidays can be a stressful time so take a load off and let someone else handle the cooking. Many Chicago restaurants will be whipping up gourmet meals to enjoy from the comforts of home on Christmas Eve and Day. The following options include a Feast of the Seven Fishes, a Michelin-starred tasting menu, succulent steaks, and more. Regardless of what diners choose though, it's a gift the whole family will appreciate.

The new West Town restaurant along the Chicago River is serving an assortment of Latin-inspired mariscos. A special prix fixe menu, priced at $40 per person, is offered now through December 27. It features choices like shrimp ceviche, langoustines, diablo shrimp, grilled skirt steak, mangonada panna cotta, Mexican hot chocolate brownie, and much more. Large family-style seafood platters are also available for $350 or $450.
